Dispute resolution

Helping you to assert and enforce your rights

It is no secret that the best legal dispute is the one that does not even start. For cost reasons and due to time constraints, it is often better to finish a dispute between contractual partners by way of an amicable settlement. However, in many cases this is impossible or does not correspond with the parties' interests. Initiating litigation or defense in court is then unavoidable.

Our experts advise and represent domestic and international clients at every level of the Luxembourg civil, commercial and criminal courts in a broad range of complex dispute resolution cases particularly in relation to our established practice area Corporate Law and M&A.
